OUR PRESENTERS

The Rev. Dr. Kelly Brown Douglas: Episcopal priest; canon theologian, Washington National Cathedral; Susan D. Morgan Distinguished Professor of Religion at Goucher College in Baltimore; author (among others) Stand Your Ground: Black Bodies and the Justice of God (2015).

Chief Brian K. Jordan: Chief of Police and Executive Director for Safety and Security, Howard University. He is co-author of the report: "A National Conversation on Police and Community Interactions on HBCU Campuses."

Mr. Wesley Lowery: Journalist, Washington Post; lead researcher/reporter on the Post's "Fatal Force" project that won the Pulitzer Prize for National Reporting in 2016; author, They Can't Kill Us All: Ferguson, Baltimore, and a New Era in America's Racial Justice Movement (2016).

The Rev. David C. Couper: Episcopal Priest, St. Peter's Episcopal Church, North Lake, WI; Chief of Police (ret.) City of Madison, WI. He is the author of (among others): Arrested Development: A Veteran Police Chief Sounds Off about Protest, Racism, Corruption and the 7 Steps Necessary to Improve Our Nation's Police (2014).

The Rev. Dr. Gayle Fisher-Stewart: Episcopal priest, founder of The Center for the Study of Faith in Justice @ Calvary Church and author of "Community Policing Explained: A Guide for Local Governments."

Lt. Tim McMillan: Garden City Police Department (GA). In October, 2016, he stopped a young black man who was texting. As he approached the vehicle, he saw that the man was "petrified with fear" at having been stopped by the police. He realized that night that something was wrong with policing and he needed to be a part of improving police-community relations.
